DYSPEPSIA.

IS that misery experienced when we suddenly become aware that we possess a diabolical arrangement called a stomach. The stomach is the reservoir from which every fibre and tissue must be nourished, and any trouble with it is soon felt throughout the whole system. Among a dozen dyspeptics no two will have the same predominant symptoms. Dyspeptics of active mental power and a bilious temperament are subject to Sick Headache; those, flashy and phlegmatic have Constipation, while the thin and nervous are abandoned to gloomy forebodings. Some dyspeptics are wonderfully forgetful; others have great irritability of temper.

Whatever form Dyspepsia may take, one thing is certain,

The underlying cause is in the LIVER, and one thing more is equally certain, no one will remain a dyspeptic who will

It will correct Acidity of the Stomach, Expel foul gases, Allay Irritation, Assist Digestion, and, at the same time

Start the Liver to working, when all other troubles soon disappear.

"My wife was a confirmed dyspeptic. Some three years ago by the advice of Dr. Steiner, of Augusta, she was induced to try Simmons Liver Regulator. I feel grateful for the relief it has given her, and may all who read this and are afflicted in any way, whether chronic or otherwise, use Simmons Liver Regulator and I feel confident health will be restored to all who will be advised."—WM. My Harbinger.

A friend whom I have missed for many months
Came back to me this morning. I was sure,
When first I wakened, something good would come;
The sky was full of promises. The earth
Seemed ready for what heaven might bestow,
And I, forewarned and watchful of each sign,
Was standing at my window when I heard
A coming, not of footsteps, but of wings,
And there he was, my dear red breasted friend!

Oh, how my heart and eyes went out to him!
My heart with joy, my eyes to see if he Looked travel worn or weary with his flight:
But, with the same old jaunty air I loved,
He fluttered weariness from off his wings,
And turned and looked inquiringly at me.

It was so sweet to welcome him once more!
To know that he was faithful, and that I
Might now look forward to the certainty
Of seeing all the promises fulfilled!

Each leafless tree a halo wore of green;
Already flowery May had come, and June
Was waiting with her train o'er yonder hill:
I saw it all, while yet the earth was bare,
Because my little friend was here and knew
It all was coming, and would have me know.
Then he became so glad he sang, and I—
I bowed my head and shed some happy tears.
—Mary A. Mason in Boston Transcript.

Chivalrous Devotion.

At the most extensive aquarium in England, the Brighton Zoo, the female lobster recently cast her shell. She screwed herself up together on the toes and tail and suddenly bent her body. Snap went the shell in its center, and the case of the back came away in one piece. The claws were her next care, and she worked away at them for a long time.

It was a proceeding of extreme delicacy, considering that all the flesh of the great claw had to be passed through the small base. During the operation one claw came off altogether, and this must have seemed to the lobster lady a serious misfortune, as it will not grow to its full size again until the second year. The tail and legs gave very little trouble, and the body, when thus undressed, proved to be of a pale blue.

The shell casting over, the lobster sank on the sand, and this action seemed a signal for the attack of every creature in the tank.

The defenseless victim bade fair to succumb to the fury of her enemies, when the male lobster suddenly came to the rescue. Standing over his helpless better half, he fought her assailants relentlessly. Day and night did he watch over her, until her shell was sufficiently hardened to protect her in fighting her own battles.

When this happy moment arrived he deliberately picked up the old claw, broke it in his nippers, and ate the meat. He then dug a hole in the sand, placed in it the broken bits of shell, buried them, and piled a number of small stones above the grave.—Youth's Companion.

An Interesting Will Case.

An interesting case and one of peculiar complication was disposed of by the court in Allentown recently. When the wife of the late Peter Maury, of West Bethlehem, died two or three years ago, she left a will bequeathing all her property, real or personal, to her husband, and it was stipulated that after his death the estate should revert to "our heirs," to quote the language of the document. Maury married a second wife, and a few weeks after the ceremony he was taken sick with a fever and died.

His widow brought suit against the heirs, Frank and George Maury and Mrs. C. Benner, for a dower right in the property, which was one-third of the estate for life. The main question discussed before the court was whether the interest of Peter Maury in the estate was an absolute one or a life one only. Judge Albright took the latter view of the affair and rendered a decision in favor of the heirs, one of whom lives in Texas. The property is valuable and is situated in West Bethlehem. Before his death Maury gave his wife a check for $500 or $600 which he had in bank.—Philadelphia Ledger.

A New Way of Getting Postage Stamps.

The postal authorities appear to regard the need for additional conveniences in the way of stamp distribution as real, for they have licensed a syndicate to attach to a selected number of pillar boxes, experimentally, an ingenious piece of mechanism working upon the "penny-in-the-slot" principle. By two movements of the hand the delivery is obtained of a small envelope containing a memorandum book full of useful postal information, with blank leaves which might serve for letter paper, and in the cover of the book is securely inserted a penny stamp. The syndicate looks for its profit not to the commission on the sale of the stamps, but to the income from advertisements inserted in the books.—London Telegraph.

A Commendable Act.

Mrs. Bedle, wife of ex-Governor Bedle, of New Jersey, deserves high rank among the pattern women of the land. Though beset with the cares incident to wealth and social leadership, she finds time for all sorts of small sweet human kindnesses, so delicately done that their value is trebled. Some time ago she bought a book, the authoress of which was blind. After reading it she sent to its writer a letter of warm thanks for the pleasure it had given her, and took the trouble to prick through every word of it, so that the blind woman might read it with her finger tips.—Exchange

The mad king of Bavaria sometimes smokes as many as 100 cigarettes a day. For each cigarette he uses an entire box of matches, touching off the others to see them burn after he has used one to secure a light with. He has a new suit of black broadcloth made for him twice every week, but he never uses a handkerchief, towel or napkin. He refuses to go near water and never bathes.

An old apple woman known as "Kitty" has just died in London at the age of one hundred and four. She kept a little stand near St. James' hall, where she often sold candy to Lord Nelson and apples to Pitt and Fox.

It is proposed, if permitted, to introduce into the London streets the steam carriages which have proved a success in Paris. They are said to be more under the control of the driver than is a horse.

A Justice Loving Rooster.

An incident which caused much amusement and set everybody talking occurred in the court room on a recent afternoon. John Williams, who had been charged on several indictments for burglary, felonious entry, larceny, etc., but was decided not guilty on all but three indictments, pleaded guilty on the indictment for larceny. During the day a rooster was offered in testimony, it being claimed that the prisoner had stolen the bird.

Now this rooster, like any other sensible bird, kept its mouth shut and behaved very nicely indeed during the trial. But when Judge Bittenger called the prisoner up and passed sentence upon him the rooster could contain himself no longer, and from within his basket prison there came a crow of delight and exultation. The effect was rather startling as well as amusing. The crowd chuckled with suppressed merriment, and even the stern judge was noticed to relax his countenance a little. The merriment at length subsided and the rooster was voted a dandy. But that historic bird had not yet fully demonstrated his appreciation of the circumstances to his own satisfaction.

Williams was afterward called up to receive sentence on another indictment, and the unsuspecting people were again almost electrified by hearing another hearty crow from the rooster. That bird was evidently glad that the prisoner was sentenced and wanted it understood too. —York (Pa.) Daily.

A Long Line of Doctors.

The numerous friends of Dr. Irving S. Haynes in this region will be glad to know that his name appears in the official announcement of the spring session of the medical department of the University of New York as demonstrator of anatomy, and that he is engaged to deliver one lecture each week during the spring course. Dr. Haynes comes rightfully by his aptitude for the medical profession. His father, Dr. Samuel Haynes of Saranac, needs no introduction to the people of this section, having established a good medical reputation many years ago; his uncle, Dr. Thomas S. Haynes, of Lacolle, has long been engaged in the practice of medicine, standing in the front ranks of his profession in the province of Quebec; his grandfather, the late Dr. Thomas Haynes, practiced medicine successfully in Swanton and Westford, Vt., for over forty years, and his great-great-grandfather, Dr. Thomas Haynes, of Bennington, was with General Amherst's army at the reduction of Fort Ticonderoga in the colonial French war of 1758, and a synopsis memorandum of that war by "Dr. Thomas Haynes, Sen.," is now in the possession of Dr. Samuel Haynes, of Saranac.—Plattsburg Republican.

A Living Dynamo.

George Rood, of Westerly, R. I., was struck by lightning, and after recovering consciousness it was found that his body was full of electricity. He is now able to sit up, but his body is so highly charged with electric fluid that when he puts his hands within a certain distance of each other sparks will jump from one to the other with a loud, crackling noise, and when the hands touch they can be separated only by the most violent rubbing.

His feet are in the same condition, and he has to be careful to keep them apart. A person touching him receives a slight shock, and if he touches a watch he magnetizes it completely. Many people visit him to witness the curious manifestation of electricity's wonderful power.

Potatoes Growing on a Grape Vine.

The owner of a garden in Greenmanville had occasion recently to prune a grapevine. In his ignorance he failed to consult "Daboll's yearly clam tide regulator," and mutilated the vine in the wrong season, with the result that the fluid extract of grape began to run and there was danger of the vine bleeding to death, when a happy thought went through his brain. Securing some large seed potatoes, he dissected them and applied the pieces to the cuts. They stuck together like twin brothers and the vine and potatoes flourished, gathering life from each other, till now they form a conglomeration of grape and potato vine that is attracting the attention of farmers and agriculturists for miles around. —New London (Conn.) Day.

Texas Is a Big State.

One must travel from the north end of Jasper county to the south end to realize the great difference in temperature. Crops may safely be planted in the southern end of the county a month earlier than in the northern part. Oranges may be raised in the south end of the county with more safety than figs in the north end. Serious damage was caused to the fruit crop at Jasper by the late cold spring, yet twenty miles below town it seems not to have affected vegetation in any manner.—Jasper (Tex.) News Boy.

The only denizens of the old familiar Goelet house, at the corner of Broadway and Nineteenth street, New York, are the sister of the late Mr. Peter Goelet, who left her a life interest in the place, and two old colored servants—a man and a woman. These do the work of the establishment, within doors and without.

It is the boast of Dr. Gallinger, the new senator from New Hampshire, that he has set type in nearly every newspaper office north of Mason and Dixon's line and between Maine and the Mississippi. His political career began in 1884, when he was elected to congress.

The total output of coal in the United Kingdom last year reached, according to the official statistics just published, 181,614,388 tons, against 176,916,724 tons in 1889. The increase was thus 4,697,564 tons, or nearly 27 per cent.

Attention has recently been called to the singular fact that until half a century ago the inhabitants of the Philippine islands were a day behind those of neighboring countries in their reckoning.

Dog Days in the Year 12,891.

As most readers well know, dog days include the period from July 3 to Aug. 11, and take their name from Sirius, known as the "Dog Star." Sirius is the most brilliant of the fixed stars, and is at the head of the constellation Canis Major, or Great Dog. This star, during the period which we refer to as dog days, rises with the sun or within the same hour. Owing to this, the astronomers say that the dog star rises "heliacally" from July 3 to Aug. 11.

The Egyptians, who worshiped the dog as a sacred beast, as did several others of the ancients, attributed the extreme heat of summer to the influence of the Canis Major constellation; the present Egyptians, however, knew nothing of this myth, with the exception of the sect known as the Copts. But with other nations it is different. With many the superstition has been perpetuated and handed down to generation after generation until the present time, when the most intelligent people of the realm speak of dog days as a season of baleful glares and breezes.

But in the far future this will all be changed. By a regular shifting of the point where the sun crosses the equator, which is caused by what is termed the "procession of the equinoxes," the time will come, in about 11,000 years, when this evil designing Great Dog constellation will only rise with the sun in midwinter. Wonderful, indeed, is great Dame Nature, which causes the huge planets to swing to and fro like gigantic pendulums strong on invisible wires, bringing the seasons in regular rotation with unerring certainty.—St. Louis Republic.

Dr. McDaniel's Smoking Tree.

Among the people of Norcross Dr. McDaniel, in his yard, grows an ordinary mulberry tree.

Mrs. McDaniel, while sitting on the veranda, saw a puff of smoke emerge from one of the limbs. She rubbed her eyes to see if it was not an optical delusion, but when she looked again she saw another puff of smoke spring from another limb.

She called to her husband that the tree was on fire. The doctor came out and was no less astonished than his wife, for the whole tree was puffing smoke. It came out in jets from the limbs like a boy smoking a cigarette. The doctor climbed into the tree, but could see nothing unusual about it, not a place in the bark being broken. The smoke was oozing from the bark and could be plainly seen as it floated off on the breeze. There was no odor to it whatever, but it was white in color and looked like tobacco smoke.

Dr. McDaniel called in his neighbors, and they too were mystified. Soon the news of the smoking tree spread, and people from all over town flocked to the doctor's home. From 4 o'clock until 6 the tree continued to emit puffs of smoke while a crowd of about 150 people watched it.—Atlanta Journal.

College Songs as They Really Are.

The Weld Glee club ought to begin to make itself heard now. The nights are getting quite balmy, and all the yard dwellers sit in their open windows loaning to howl "More! More!" when the sweet strains of "The Mulligan Musketeers," "Lizette," etc., float through the yard.

New members should be elected to the W. G. C. A few men who can hold the air and don't care about singing tenor would be great acquisitions. There is one man now who persists in singing first tenor in every song, and it would be very painful if he didn't happen to strike the right notes occasionally, entirely by accident. Such things will happen, though.

If somebody would learn the words to something he would confer a favor, because there is a certain queerness in thirty or forty voices all saying, "Pom-pom-pom-pom-pom." These songs without words are very passe; you really ought to learn a few verses for them.—Harvard Lampoon.

Elsie's Numerous Grandparents.

Elsie Chase, daughter of Charles and Clara Chase, of Yarmouth, has more grandfathers and grandmothers than any child in Massachusetts, all of whom are now living. I give below the names:

Edward and Mary Chase, grandfather and grandmother.

Charles and Emma Ellis, grandfather and grandmother.

Adeline Nickerson, great-great-grandmother.

Jerry Walker, great-great-grandfather.

This is very remarkable, six grandfathers and six grandmothers, and all living, making a collection that has no equal in this country.—Cape Cod Item.

Fireflies Illuminated the River.

A special from Ringold tells of a wonderful phenomenon which visited that historic city recently. Millions upon millions of fireflies issued from neighboring mountain ridges and took down the course of the Chickamauga river, which skirts that city on its southern border. The pyrotechnic display was grand. Trunks of trees skirting the river were plainly visible a quarter of a mile distant, and the entire mountain side was illuminated. The horde of fireflies were fully forty feet high, and it took a quarter of an hour to pass down the stream.—Tennessee Cor. Atlanta Constitution

Platinum and Silver on the Sun.

Up to 1888 platinum had not as yet exhibited its presence in the sun's atmosphere. In that year some slight traces of it were found. Recent investigation establishes beyond a doubt the fact that it exists in the "great orb of day," as well as upon the earth. The same investigations, which of course were made with the solar spectrum, confirm the belief in the presence of silver and bismuth in the sun also.—St. Louis Republic.

THE Democratic Senators and the Democratic editors are not in accord concerning the desirability of again making Mr. Cleveland the standard bearer of that party. If there is a single Democratic Senator who champions the cause of Mr. Cleveland he is doing it so quietly that we have not heard of him, while nearly every Democratic Senator has put himself on record as believing Mr. Cleveland should not be nominated. Democratic editors, particularly those controlling country papers, which as a rule closely represent the opinions of their constituents, appear to think that Mr. Cleveland will and should be nominated.

A YOUNG workingman, says the Detroit Free Press, bought a colored shirt. In tearing off the tag he discovered a note therein requesting the purchaser to correspond with the maker of the shirt in a New Jersey manufacturing town. She said she was working for starvation wages, and hoped to find a home and a husband, when she would be happy. He wrote her, was pleased with her replies, went to New Jersey and married her. Three weeks after they were united for life she received a letter from England, the home of her ancestors, containing a draft for £1000, and a notification of the fact that she was sole heir to a fortune of over £150,000.

RUNNING a live newspaper is hard work these times. It's no trouble to run a dead one, but to run a live one that is a welcome visitor to every subscriber, one that is newsy, right and entertaining is a much harder task than being governor or umpiring a baseball game. If you doubt it, gentle reader, come and we'll turn the office over to you for a week, and bet the price of a first-class funeral that you'll die before the week's up, that is if you do your full editorial duty.—New Era.

FOR years it has been stated and re-stated in the columns of presumably well informed newspapers that Sir John Macdonald was the only obstacle to the peaceful annexation of Canada to the United States. Now that Sir John is dead we shall watch with interest the movements of the annexationists both in Canada and the United States in order to ascertain how much truth there was in these oft repeated assertions.

THE great city newspapers are, as usual at this season of the year, wasting much space in telling the farmers how to profitably run their farms. As reciprocity is the order of the day the farmers should devote some of their time, if they ever get such a commodity, to telling the editors of the big dailies how to run their papers. The advice in one case should be equally as valuable as in another.

THE profits of Bardsley, the defaulting Treasurer of Philadelphia, in the last two years from loaning public funds at interest were $202,000. The city has traced $285,000 of the $445,000 school funds appropriated by Bardsley. The State of Pennsylvania has made a formal demand on Mayor Stuart for $622,000 due the State for taxes collected by Bardsley.

A NOVEL plan for extinguishing a church debt has been hit upon in Melbourne. The church committee—or vestry, as the case may be—divide the total debt among themselves and each man insures his life for the amount that falls to his share. The policies are transferred to the church, and the annual payments on them are made out of the collections. Then, of course, as the members of committee drop off, the sums on their lives drop in, and later, when the last committeeman is dead, the last installment of the church debt will be paid. The plan has the merit—if merit it be—of throwing the whole responsibility for the continuance of the indebtedness upon Providence.

He Paid the Loan.

It has been remarked that Hebrews do not beg. Furthermore that Hebrews look after their own poor, a distinguishing trait, but we do not remember an instance where a man or boy who was housed in a police station house out of compassion, and who was given a trifle of money to get a meal, ever was at the pains to return and refund the money. Our avenues of information on this hand are not few. A young Hebrew who walked from St. Louis to Pittsburg was given a quarter of a dollar to satisfy his hunger. His shoes were in ribbons. When he earned two dollars he bought a pair of shoes, and left a quarter at the station house to be returned to the man who gave it to him. If Isaac Moser lives he will be a successful business man, and in any event he reflects credit upon his race.—Pittsburg Bulletin.

Lord Melbourne's Way of Saying It.

The death of Lord Minto makes a vacancy in the Order of the Thistle for which a number of names are mentioned, that of Lord Strathmore being prominent. The order consists of twenty members, including the four principal royal dukes, and the decoration is eagerly sought after by Scottish peers. It consists of a star, a green ribbon and the motto, "Nemo me impuno lacessit." A good story has been revived of the reply made by Lord Melbourne to a political friend who had been importuning him to give the decoration to a peer who was more noted for his urbanity than for his great talents. "Give the thistle to ——!" said Lord Melbourne, with one of his usual expletives; "why, he'd eat it!"—Scottish-American.

Marriage a Failure.

A Bowenville widower wants to get married. His fiancee, a maiden lady of Globe Village, is ready for the ceremony, but the b. w. is halting, necessarily on account of a little financial difficulty. He has been contracting numerous bills with "butchers and bakers and candlestick makers" at the North End, and hasn't made much effort to pay them. He sent to Canada for $100 to get married with, and ordered it sent by express. A grocer, who is one of his creditors, heard of the plan, and when the money arrived at the express office it was attached, and the maiden still waits for the will o'wer.—Fall River (Mass.) News.

Broke Jail to Get Bail.

John Conrad, confined in the Jackson county jail at Brownstown, Ind., wanted bail, and succeeded in cutting a hole in the rear upper part of the jail and escaping by the roof. He went on foot to his home, ten miles away, but on failing to arrange for bail he returned to the jail and crawled back in through the same hole by which he escaped. The jailer knew nothing of the escape and the return until informed by the prisoner.—Cor. Chicago Herald.

Read Thoroughly.

Savage Landor said, in his savage way, that no person should ever have more than five books on hand. He said that when you had read a book thoroughly you had better give it away, and that it was idle to keep around you so many monuments of unfinished reading as most men had in the books of their libraries. This is straining a point, undoubtedly, and a few of us would say that Lander's rule was a working rule in education or life. But what Lander meant was that it was worth while for a man to be off with the old love before he was on with the new. He meant that it was worth while for people to finish, and finish thoroughly, one line of study before they embarked on another.—Boston Commonwealth.

Across the Deep, to the Far West,

On steamboats, cars and stage-coaches, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is carried as the most important item in the materia medica of the traveling public. It deprives vitiated, brackish water of its hurtful properties and execrable flavor, counteracts the pernicious effects upon the stomach of bad or indigestible food, remedies cramps, heartburn and wind upon the stomach. It is a fine defense against malarial disorders, nullifies the effects of excessive heat, cold and damp, relieves sick headache, and is an incomparable cure for costiveness and biliousness. The fatigue of travel often tells most disastrously upon invalids and convalescents, occasionally to such an extent as to jeopardise life. Persons in feeble health, apprehensive of bad effects from travel, will, if provided with the Bitters, be far less likely to have their fears realized.

THE Bravest 500 OF '61,

A Wonderful Book made from the records of the War Department.

COMPILED BY BVT. BRIG.-GEN. T. F. Rodenbough.

Of the 2,773,304 men enlisted in the Union Army and Navy, 1861-5, a little less than 500 were especially recognized by the War Dept., as coming under the Act of Congress, July 12, 1862, for distinguished bravery, which gave them the United States Medal of Honor.

Many of the stories, told by the heroes themselves, of how they won the high distinction, are extremely interesting. That the records of these deeds are almost unknown to their countrymen, but lie buried in the pigeon holes of the War Dept., and in the recesses of their own breasts, seems astonishing.

This book must find a wide sale, for it is full of incidents that will interest every old soldier in the land, and our boys will glory in it. It is a five volume of over 500 pages, with nearly 100 excellent illustrations, and is especially for the work.

It rocks of its time and deserves a place in the library of all who would not altogether forget the glorious past.

John L. Sullivan, champion prize fighter of the world, passed through El Verano last Saturday en route to Santa Rosa. The train stopped a few minutes at the station and a number of people standing on the platform bearded the cars and took a good look at the handsome John, who stood the scrutiny without wincing. On board the train was a band of musicians who were on their way from the city to play for a ball at Los Guilicos. At the request of the great slogger they played several airs and just before reaching their destination he gave each of them a piece of money and at the same time presented the conductor of the train with a two bit cigar. Sullivan appeared anything but a common drunkard and blackguard while on the train and conducted himself in a quiet and unostentatious manner while traveling betwen El Verano and Santa Rosa. A crowded house greeted him in the latter place and he went through his acts in an easy and life like manner. He didn't say "mudder" for mother and "dat" for that either, although he did get a little excited in the four-round slogging act and punched his adversary until the blood flowed from his mouth, much to the delight of the small boy.

The only commercial hotel in Sonoma is the Union. *

BLOOD ON THE MOON

Spring Fights Open Rather Late in the Season.

The passage of that champion of sloggers, John L. Sullivan, through this valley last Saturday stirred up the pugilistic tendencies of a number of citizens of Sonoma who have not as yet won fame as prize fighters. On Saturday afternoon last there was a preliminary fisticuff in front of the Union Hotel which was short but decisive, one of the combatants, to use a sporting phrase, not being "in it." No arrest followed, both parties no doubt agreeing that it was "no contest."

On Tuesday last George Spening, driver of a basalt block team, was arrested on complaint of Jas. McGuffy, a block-maker, charged with battery. The defendant on being brought before Judge Cheney, plead guilty to the charge and was fined $15, which he paid. It appears Spening attacked McGuffy with a strap to which was attached a heavy buckle. The latter was struck on the head and received a larcerated wound. Spening, in justification of his striking McGuffy, states that he is a dangerous man as only a few months ago he beat a fellow workman into insensibility with a pick handle and for long time his life was despaired of. The victim of McGuffy's brutal assault finally recovered, but was subsequently sent to the Napa Insane Asylum. Spening claims that McGuffy had seized him by the throat before he struck him. If this be so he was foolish to plead guilty, as no judge or jury would have convicted him. He has no one to blame but himself for not standing trial, and Judge Cheney had no other recourse than to fine him, inasmuch as he set up no defense before his Honor and plead guilty to the charge.

Later in the day an itinerant axle-grinder named A. T. Workman became involved in a wordy dispute with J. Skiffington, driver of the Sonoma and El Verano stage. He finally invited Jack to fight, with the result they came blows and the axle-grinder came out second best, whereat he waxed wroth and had his opponent arrested charged with battery. When the case was called in Justice Cheney's Court the following morning Mr. Skiffington plead guilty and was fined $12 by his Honor and the law was vindicated.

On Wednesday night last the practice meeting of the firemen broke up in a row and there was a regular knock down and drag out fight between two prominent firemen which for a time threatened to become a free fight. The cool headed men of the company, however, prevented a general row and the combatants after slogging one another a round or two ceased hostilities. No arrests.

At latest accounts no other fights are on.

SUMMIT JOINT SCHOOL.

Closing Exercises---Miss Hettie Hoyt Re-appointed Teacher.

Last Thursday the closing exercises of Summit Joint School took place in the pretty school house which is situated on the top of the mountains near Los Guilicos in a most picturesque and romantic spot.

It was 11 A. M. when the parents and friends began to assemble, each bringing a large basket laden with good things to eat. A very pleasant time was spent in conviviality and good fellowship, which continued until lunch was announced, the table being spread under the tall stately redwood trees that grow in these mountains. After doing justice to the good things before them, all repared to the school house, where at half-past one the exercises opened with introductory remarks by Hon. J. K. Luttrell.

The talent exhibited by the children who took part in the above was remarkable and will not soon be forgotten by those who listened to them. The school house was beautifully draped with flags and festooned with ferns and lovely flowers. A fine new organ stood in one corner which was also prettily decorated. On the teacher's desk stood a beautiful large bouquet. The Kindergarden work of the younger pupils was a prominent part of the decoration. Miss Hettie Hoyt is the teacher of this flourishing school and to her, in a great measure, is due the rapid advancement of her scholars during the past year. After the programme had been carried out the young people present danced far into the evening.

Mr. J. H. Cutter and wife (nee Vallejo) who were visiting at the old homestead at Lachryma Montis several days last week returned to Oakland Sunday afternoon.

A very sad occurrence happened at our station a few days ago. It was when a Sonoma city belle, in trying to mash a brakeman, opened her mouth so wide that her unfortunate victim became so unnerved that he fainted dead away on the platform.

Mr. Jack Kearns, one of Sonoma's solid men, with a beautiful bouquet on his manly bosom, occupied a whole box at the Athenæum Saturday eve to witness Sullivan's "go" with Lannon. Jack, being pretty slick with the mittens himself, it was very evident from the broad smile which illumined his classic features during the bout that John L's agility and skill were being duly appreciated.

Last Tuesday was Billy Lloyd Garrison's twenty first birthday and on that evening many of Billy's well wishers assembled at his mother's home and tendered him many happy returns of the day. Dancing was indulged in till the wee small hours of the following morning and the tables literally groaned under the choicest of edibles well calculated to suit the taste of the most fastidious epicure.

Billy Dolan, the chubby and rosy checked railroad conductor, is the proud possessor of a very finely flavored Havana cigar received from John L's own hands on his trip with him to Santa Rosa last Saturday eve. Billy intends to take a day off on the next anniversary of our Nation's birthday and smoke this cigar dressed up in his best suit of clothes.

People who were waiting for our Wednesday morning's train were treated to a war of words by two belligerently inclined individuals, and the language used would have shocked the ears of the average Barbary coaster. It was a bloodless affair, though, and one of the brawny contestants wept copiously after each round. Like when the pig was getting shorn, there was a great deal of noise and no wool during this blood-curdling contest.

W. E. Warren, our photographer, who left here some three months ago to ply his trade in the southern part of the State, was robbed of his team and photographing paraphernalia at Cayucos by his assistant, Chas. R. Thompson. It seems the latter worthy became impressed with the idea that he had served a long enough apprenticeship and concluded to go into business for himself, so he accordingly skipped out with his master's rig. After a lively chase he was captured at Los Alamos, and late accounts say that he has been held over to appear before the Superior Court to answer for his crime.

The social hop at Union Hall last Saturday evening was largely attended, dancing being indulged in until midnight. These hops should be encouraged and made one of the social pleasures of Sonoma during the summer months.

A few evenings ago a jolly party of ladies and gentlemen, guests at the celebrated Kohler & Frohling Tokay Vineyards, near Glen Ellen, drove down to Sonoma in a bay wagon to which was attached a spirited four-in-hand, enjoying a delightful old-fashioned straw ride. The night was a perfect one and the bright rays of the silvery moon threw a soft light over the merry young occupants, who made the night air resound with jollity and song. The motto of this party was "Let mirth abound and order prevail." Those composing the party were: Misses Marguerite Gleason, Irma Trommlitz, Florence Trommlitz, Mrs. P. Trommlitz and Messrs. P. Trommlitz, Melvin Trommlitz, Pius Regeli and Geo. C. Husmann. The master of ceremonies was Geo. C. Husmann, the gentlemanly Superintendent of Tokay Vineyards. The drive was one long to be remembered with pleasure by the participants.

The wedding of Miss Mamie Pardow and Mr. Joseph Hooper, which took place in San Rafael last week, was conducted with great simplicity and without any formality owing to a recent death in the family of the bride. After the ceremony was performed a nuptial mass was celebrated and a special benediction imparted to the young couple. The bride was attired in a simple gown of pure white with silk tulle veil. The bridesmaid was Miss Fannie O'Connor and the groomsman Mr. W. Carrigan. A wedding lunch was served at the residence of the bride's aunt, Mrs. M. J. O'Connor of San Rafael. The bride's home is in New York, where she has resided until recently when she came to California to visit her aunt. Mr. Hooper is well-known, being connected with the First National Bank of San Francisco. Mr. and Mrs. Hooper are spending their honeymoon at Sobre Vista, the beautiful country seat of Col. and Mrs. Hooper, near Sonoma. They will return to San Francisco about the 1st of July, where they will reside in a pretty cottage home which awaits them on California street.

The "Green Country Girl" is so busily engaged—no doubt in mastering the art of "Cooking"—that of late she has failed to represent our district in the columns of the INDEX-TRIBUNE, and we feel that our flourishing town must not be longer neglected, hence your new correspondents.

COSTLY SACK OF BRAN.

A Farmer Convicted of Purloining the Same is Fined $30---Was a Theft Really Intended?

J. F. McClemmy, lessee of a small farm on the Buena Vista tract, was arrested last Saturday at the instance of John Gottenberg, foreman of Buena Vista, who charged him with purloining a sack of bran, valued at about fifty cents. The defendant called for a jury trial and the following were sworn to try the case: D. D. Davisson, Henry Hartin, Fred. Ewell, B. Baer, T. M. Dunn, G. W. Clark, F. Lay and J. W. Deming. After listening to the evidence, the jury brought in a verdict of guilty as charged, and Judge Cheney fined McClemmy $30. The fine was paid by Wm. C. Green, a lumber dealer, and the defendant discharged from custody.

The circumstances of the case were about as follows: McClemmy, whose ranch adjoins Buena Vista farm, in returning to his place about 10:30 on Friday morning of last week, stopped his team in front of the Buena Vista barn and in the presence of several people helped himself to half a sack of bran, at the same time calling upon his hired man, who accompanied him, to assist him in carrying the load to his wagon. He then drove to his ranch. McClemmy admitted this, but set up in defense that he intended to return the bran. As it was impossible to prove any such intention on his part, and the fact of his taking the bran without asking for it was sufficient, in the minds of the jury, to justify a conviction.

A Pass That Has Done Service.

Twenty-six years ago, when connected with the Clarendon hotel, at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., J. C. Chamberlain, the present cashier of the Leland hotel, was given a pass on the National Express company by its general superintendent, E. H. Virgil. Mr. Chamberlain was then a bright young man and had done many acts of kindness for the superintendent. In gratitude to the young hotel clerk Virgil presented him with the pass, which gave him the right to send any package free of charge through the company.

A few weeks ago the National Express company was amalgamated with the Northern Pacific Express company, and the new arrangement came into effect a few days ago. Mr. Chamberlain had used his pass whenever he had occasion, but he was a little in doubt as to whether it would be of any good under the new management.

However, as soon as the office in the Rookery building was open Mr. Chamberlain walked in with a package directed to C. R. Dnrkee, of Saratoga Springs. The clerk weighed the package with particular care, as this was the first one handled by the new company. Then when he asked for pay the pass was produced. General Superintendent Hutt was called in on the question of the validity of the antiquated pass, but he knew that the document had never been rescinded and the package was sent along. The pass was on flimsy paper, but the cashier mounted it on a piece of stiff pasteboard and preserved it carefully. Now he is wondering whether he can will away the pass when he requires it no longer.—Chicago Herald.

Going to Jerusalem to Welcome Christ.

The Rev. W. P. Brown, a prominent Latter Day Saint minister, formerly of Harvey, Kan., now of Richmond, Mo., is in Independence selling his real estate and effects for cash, with which he purposes going to Jerusalem and there witness the second coming of Christ.

He says that the second coming of Christ is not far distant; that the Jews are fast returning to Jerusalem, and he takes this as indicative of the great event. He belongs to the Whitmerite branch of the Mormon church, and has been at Richmond studying the original manuscript of the Book of Mormon for the purpose of figuring out the exact date of Christ's return.

Richard Whitmer is the present guardian of this manuscript. He is the son of David Whitmer, who sat on one side of the curtain and wrote down while Joseph Smith, the prophet, read and translated the Book of Mormon on the other side by means of the spectacles made of stones known as the Urim and Thummin. From this manuscript the Rev. Mr. Brown has figured out this great event.

He will leave his wife and three daughters here while he goes to Jerusalem in the early part of this summer. He says he does not know just what day Christ will come, but thinks it won't be very many months, and wants to get there in time.—Cor. St. Louis Republic.

Queer Sounds in a Theater.

In changing scenery in the second act of the melodrama at the Star theater the lights are turned down very low. In fact they are practically put out and the audience is left for a few seconds in Egyptian darkness. A subdued feminine titter usually runs through the auditorium when this occurs. This titter became a roar of laughter the other night when distinct sounds of kissing arose in various parts of the house. It was first a modest osculatory vibration from a remote section of the orchestra circle. It sent a thrill up every spinal column in the immense audience. A second later a pronounced smack was heard in the balcony, which created a great sensation. Then followed a succession of base imitations in the gallery, sprinkled with loud cries of "Come off!" "Now, you jes leave me alone!" "Take your arm away, Charley!" etc. When the lights were turned on there were a good many rosy faces in that crowd, but nobody seemed to be unhappy. It was a great hit.—New York Herald.

A Dog's Strange Family.

The whim of Fannie, a pet dog which makes its home in Mr. James M. Glenn's Nevada building, is attracting considerable attention from the tenants. A short while ago a litter of her puppies was taken from her. She mourned her loss, and after a few days disappeared, remaining missing until Friday, when she was found in the basement with a fine collection of kittens, which she had picked up somewhere and had adopted in the stead of the puppies so ruthlessly torn from her protecting care.—Cincinnati Commercial Gazette.

Baked Apples from Australia.

On the manifest of the steamer Monowai, from Australia, were about 1,700 boxes of apples, shipped from Tasmania. An examination of them was made, and it was found that the apples were in every condition of baking, roasting and stewing, and were entirely unfit for use. Whether it was the heat of the hold or the natural heat of the tropics that destroyed them does not appear.—San Francisco Chronicle

Some Funny New York Signs.

The crop of funny signboards this spring seems to be larger than ever. A barber in Fourteenth street has decorated his place with the legend, "Tonsorial Haircutting Parlors;" a flower making firm in Bleecker street that evidently desires steady help displays the motto, "Leavers Wanted," and a young man who dispenses sea food up in Harlem tells bypassers that he is famous for "hoister stoo."—New York Times.

Corn in Installments.

Here is something that can only happen in Kansas. A Kansas farmer stored away 100 bushels of corn. Soon after storing it he sold seventy-five bushels and realized $7.50. A year later he sold fifteen bushels and realized $7.50. And last week he exchanged the remaining ten bushels for $7.50.—Topeka Journal.

The Bravest Five Hundred.

Very few people know that in the late civil war, out of the thousands of the heroes on the rolls, but five hundred were awarded the coveted distinction of medal of honor. The record of many of the exploits for which the medal has been given shows that they have been as grand as any in the age of chivalry, and that they shed a brillant lustre upon our national escutcheon. A new work just published tells the history of many of these heroes. It is grand, thrilling, exciting. Among the stories told by the boys in blue are the following: "A Minnesota Boy's First Battle," "Fighting Joe's Men," "A Hero of Antietam," "Foiling an Assassin," "The Soldier Scout's Story," "Three Thinking Bayonets," "TheSalient at Spottsylvania," "Mars and Cupid at Gettysburg," "At the Cannon's Mouth," etc., etc. The work is beautifully illustrated with battle scenes and war pictures, also portraits of the gallant men who won the medal. Such a work is sure of an enormous sale in any community. Every old soldier's heart will beat with pride in reading it, and those who love deeds of daring and adventure will be infatuated with the modest, manly way in which these brave men tell their story. The work is called "The Bravest 500 of '61." It is sold by subscription by the well-known publishing house, The History Company of San Francisco. We call attention to their advertisement in another column.
